

should be one Nation, indivisible, I think we should have one ethical standard that is indivisible, and I think it should be a high one. I think America deserves better than a Surgeon General who is willing to adjust on a relative scale of values the ethics that relate to those in another setting as compared to individuals who would be here in the United States. It is time for us to demand a Surgeon General who will appeal to the better angels of our nature, not bow to our basest desires.

As I conclude my remarks, I would indicate the African AZT trials and the ethical problems surrounding them are just one aspect of the serious difficulties I have with this nomination, difficulties that lead me to oppose this nomination. This nominee endorses the practice of partial-birth abortion. This nominee has indicated a willingness to fund studies for the distribution of clean needles to drug addicts. He has indicated a willingness to fund conferences to promote the distribution of clean needles to drug addicts, to put the Government in the business of facilitating the administration of illegal drugs.

He has reserved, in a technical statement, that he had never provided funding for a Government program to provide clean needles to addicts. But he has provided funding for Government studies and he has provided funding for other programs to promote the distribution of such needles. He has indicated that if he could get the right result from the studies he would be willing to have a program that distributed clean needles. It may be true that clean needles might help some people avoid illness, but frankly I don't know that we should be in the business of assisting individuals in the administration of IV drugs merely because there would be some "health benefit" in a discrete situation where the Government provided a sterile instrument for the administration of illicit substances.

Individuals have come to this floor also indicating that they don't believe firearms are a disease. As you know, and I think as Senator CRAIG of Idaho indicated pretty clearly, the Centers for Disease Control has sought to limit or otherwise conduct studies which might be used in seeking to limit the availability or eligibility of people to own firearms in this country because they say that firearms are dangerous to a person's health. Frankly, the provision that guarantees the right of individuals to bear arms in America is the second amendment to the Constitution of the United States and I don't believe that the Bill of Rights is a disease. I think if we have resources that need to be devoted in our culture to the abatement and mitigation of diseases, we ought to deploy those resources to fight diseases and not to try and build a case for depriving Americans of a right guaranteed them by the Bill of Rights.

In all of these settings the cumulative effect of this candidate, this nominee of the President, shows us that we are not being offered the kind of Surgeon General to lead the American people in ways that I think are appropriate and consistent with the ambitions and aspirations of Americans. For these reasons—in addition to my focus today on the ethical deficiencies of the African AIDS studies—I think this nominee should be defeated.

JENNY LYNN STILES HUDSON

Mr. GORTON. Mr. President, it is with great sadness that I speak here in the U.S. Senate this evening. I share a story of a wonderful and talented young woman, Miss Jenny Lynn Stiles Hudson, whose life was lost tragically in an automobile accident a week ago today, on January 28.

Jenny was only 21 years old at the time of her death and had just begun a career as my deputy director for eastern Washington. While Jenny was with the Gorton organization only for a few short weeks, she had already demonstrated the talents to be a valuable member of my organization.

But Jenny Hudson will not be remembered for being a Gorton staffer. Rather, she will be remembered as an amazing and dynamic young woman who accomplished so much in her 21 years and who touched the lives of all around her.

Jenny grew up in Lyman and Hamilton, in rural Skagit County, north of Seattle. She was a joy and a delight to her family and a participant in almost all of the school and community activities offered to her in that rural setting.

Jenny graduated from Washington State University only in December of last year. At the university she was active in the Block and Bridle Club, the Livestock Judging Team, the Washington Cattlemen's Association, all while raising and showing Limousin beef cattle throughout the State of Washington.

Jenny enjoyed swimming and singing. At the same time, she maintained a strong belief in God, working as the youth director of her local church.

Jenny Hudson will be missed by all who knew her. In her short 21 years, Jenny inspired those around her with her vibrant outlook on life, her ambition and her many accomplishments. An early death reminds us of the sanctity and the fragility of life. Let the lesson of Jenny Hudson's remarkable life be no less deep.

My thoughts and prayers go out to Jenny's parents, to her husband of just 6 months, Tipton, and to her countless friends and relatives as they deal with this difficult time.

Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

INTERMODAL SURFACE TRANSPORTATION EFFICIENCY ACT

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I have listened very carefully to the senior Senator from West Virginia, Mr. BYRD, as he has every day taken the floor regarding the need for the U.S. Senate to address S. 1173, a bill that I named the ISTEPA 2 authorization bill, since it came through my subcommittee on the Environment and Public Works Committee.

I joined with Senator BYRD, the senior Senator from Texas, Mr. GRAMM, and the senior Senator from Montana, Mr. BAUCUS, who is the ranking member on my subcommittee and the full committee, in an amendment which will ensure that a greater amount of funds will go to the Nation's infrastructure of highways.

Under the leadership of Senator BYRD, the four of us on this particular amendment have been talking to a number of Senators. We are very pleased to announce that we are up to 52 cosponsors. I met earlier today with a group of Governors who have an organization termed "trust," and they have visited the Nation's Capitol to speak particularly with Senators on the urgency of addressing this bill and passing the needed legislation so funds can flow to the new construction programs for this calendar year.

The most fervent appeals for prompt consideration of this bill understandably come from the States in the northern tier of the United States of America, because they have a very short season within which to do the needed construction because of the severity of the weather. The distinguished Presiding Officer has some specific knowledge about the needs based
